

Feedback for RRMP Literature Review [Formative]

Details of any extensions etc:	Submission Attempt: Formative

There is a plan and breakdown in your formative. Remember for the actual summative itself you need to use Arial font size 12 for the assignment with double line spacing throughout and clear and distinct spacing between your paragraphs. If in doubt regarding the above and any other academic conventions revisit our Zoom Seminars for 2&3 as academic conventions were discussed in those seminars.

Also in your final summative ensure that you cite in text regularly and that you have a list of references that reflect your intext citations at the end of the summative assignment, on their own page.

You have clearly thought through the structure for the final summative and there is concise detail and an intended word count breakdown for each section. What I would say is be mindful that this is just a 2000 word Literature Review for summative and so don't over commit on content, as this may mean that you don't have enough word count to get into any level of deeper debate.

Engage in research and then reflect upon what can be achieved again in the relatively limited word count you have for the assignment. For the final summative it is important to get discussion and debate occurring so that there is evidence of research depth in your subject matter. Remember that critical debate is important so that the assignment isn't too descriptive,

With best wishes
